

Rudy Giuliani is not qualified to be president.

Bad for New York.

Bad for Florida.

Bad for the United States.

Rudy Giuliani can't hide from the truth.

Rudy Giuliani isn't qualified to be President. He shamelessly uses the events of 9/11 for his own political gain. The truth is, Giuliani used poor judgment leading up to and on the day of the attacks. He was unprepared to protect New York, and he is unprepared to lead our country.

SHOWED BAD JUDGMENT

Giuliani's lack of preparation forced fire fighters to use radios he knew were faulty. And it was Giuliani's decision to build the city's emergency operations center in 7 World Trade Center, knowing since the '93 bombing that it was the primary target of terrorists. His poor judgement left the city without an emergency operations center on the day it was needed most.

HIRES UNQUALIFIED YES-MEN

Instead of hiring a real police chief, Giuliani appointed his driver, Bernard Kerik. He then asked President Bush to appoint him as Secretary of Homeland Security when Kerik was on the verge of a federal indictment. Giuliani would rather reward unqualified loyal cronies than real leaders. He can't be trusted with decisions on such important issues.

"America's fire fighters know the truth about Giuliani. That's why, overwhelmingly, we don't support him for Commander-in-Chief."

—Bob Carver, Florida Professional Firefighters, President

"My son was a fire fighter who died on 9/11. I resent Rudy Giuliani using this tragedy for his own political gain. He isn't a hero. He's a coward who left our city unprepared for a terrorist attack."

—Deputy Chief Jim Riches, FDNY

Father of fallen fire fighter Jimmy Riches, Jr., FDNY 9/11

When you know the truth, you just can't support Rudy Giuliani.
